

PRICES FOR SHEEP ARE SOME HIGHER

Correspondence The Advocate.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 19.—Cattle received here this week 74,000, last week 81,400, same week last year 85,200 head. It became apparent this week that the fall cattle run is not going to be shut off abruptly. The Panhandle country and Colorado are in the midst of their shipping season, conditions that will cause supplies to subside gradually, even though Kansas pastures and the quarantine territory are fast becoming bare of cattle. Country demand continues unabated and killers want large this week, circumstances that permitted a rise of fifteen to twenty-five cents in the general market. The week is closing without any flourish, and dealers will be satisfied with steady prices next week on a run as large as the one this week. Nothing prime was received this week, some short fed Kansas cattle at ten dollars standing at the top, and best Westerns at $8.50 to $9.20, bulk of the Westerns at $6.00 to $8.00. Cows and heifers took on new life the last half of this week, and quit the week the most promising commodity on the list, selling mainly at $4.25 to $7.50. Veal calves sank back a half dollar—loose now at $8.50. Quarantine cattle are largely of the clean up kind, and look fully a quarter higher for the week, steers at $4.10 to $4.90, cows $2.50 to $5.00. Stock cattle and feeders are going to every point of the compass this week, unusual shipments having been made to North-western Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado. Stockers sell at $5.00 to $7.00, feeders $5.75 to $7.50. Sheep received here this week 42,000, last week 19,000, same week last year 76,600 head. Prices are nearly a dollar higher than first of last week, and look firmly grounded, though a shade under Wednesday. Top lambs are worth $7.40, middle grades around $7.00, feeding lambs $5.75 to $6.25, yearlings up to $5.00, wethers $4.60, ewes $4.00.

CHOLERA KILLS HOGS

Hundreds of Fine Porkers Have Died in Davis County.

OGDEN, Oct. 21.—More than two hundred and fifty hogs have died and the droves on several farms have been entirely wiped out by a cholera epidemic in the farming districts of Layton and Kayville. Up to the present time there has been no quarantine declared by the state authorities, and local veterinarians have issued a warning that, since Ogden has no municipal inspector of meats, citizens should be careful in their purchases of pork.

Dr. A. J. Webb, a local veterinarian, received from California today a hundred doses of cholera serum. He proceeded at once to the infected districts for the purpose of inoculating hogs which have so far escaped the disease. It is declared that in the cases of healthy animals 95 per cent can be rendered immune to cholera by the use of serum.

UTAH ALPACA NO LONGER UNDER BAN

The embargo against Utah alpacas, based on the alleged presence of the obnoxious weevil, recently declared by the state of Washington, has been dissolved for lack of jurisdiction on the part of the state horticulturist, who instituted the quarantine. In a letter to J. Edward Taylor, state horticulturist for Utah, the Washington official writes that the attorney general of his state has declared his ruling unfounded in law.

John Anderson of Perron and formerly of Ogden, the father of Albert Anderson of Price, died at Ivy Creek south of the town of Emery, last night of Bright's disease and heart trouble. Deceased had been sick for several months and was on the eve of going to Salt Lake City for treatment on the advice of a local physician, when death came. He was well known throughout Carbon and Emery counties, being a peddler of products of the farm and ranch for a number of years. The remains are to be taken to Ogden for interment. He was one of Eastern Utah's most substantial and very best citizens.

—Miss May Foster has returned from a visit to friends and relatives in Emery county.

—Mrs. Joe B. Roberts returned last week from a short visit with her parents at Evanston, Wyo.

—Mrs. Wilbur Rugg has returned to Price from a visit with her parents at Cleveland last week.

—Dr. A. C. Sorenson is at home from a business and professional trip to Provo last Monday and Tuesday.

—Miss Jennie McInire and brother, Ted, are in Salt Lake City on a visit to their sister, Mrs. T. L. McCarty.

—Mrs. Vern Avery and Mrs. Henry Hampton of Castle Dale visited with Mrs. H. C. Smith of Price last week.

—Peter Barboglio and family have returned to Helper from Dawson, N. M., to make their home in Carbon county.

—Mrs. George E. Nelson was called to the reservation country the first of last week by the serious illness of her mother.

—J. W. Cherry, candidate for district attorney on the republican ticket, was in Price Monday after a campaigning tour of Emery county. He considers Emery safely republican.

—Ray E. Lee is in from the Wells this week, where he conducts the stage station and a mercantile business. He reports business good out that way and prospects fine with the stockmen for the coming winter.

—Mrs. H. L. Baldwin of Salt Lake City is a guest this week at the Henry Wade home. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin were residents here about four years ago, the former now being in the employ of the Oregon Short Line at Zion as a civil engineer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Bassett of Salt Lake City were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wade and family last Saturday en route to Chicago. They are to be away two weeks or longer. Mrs. Bassett was formerly Miss Helen Santschl of Castle Gate.

—Mrs. H. D. Elliott of Waupaca, Wis., stopped off in Price Tuesday and yesterday, spending the time most pleasantly with old friends here. "Mother" Elliott had been to the Grand Army gathering at San Francisco and returning also visited at her old home in Sevier county.

—A. C. Magnuson, president of the Gilsonite company out near Myton, was here yesterday from Denver, Colo., going to his properties. He is preparing for a big output of gilsonite both by automobile and by wagon. McKune Forwarding company looks after the output at this end of the road.

—Mrs. John Perry, a former resident of Helper, together with her niece, Miss Cooper, have been guests the past few days at the home of Mrs. Julius Sheppard and Mrs. D. C. Gibson. The ladies left Thursday for Denver, from where they will go to their home in Kentucky. —Helper Times, 19th.

—Judge Jacob Johnson went to Salt Lake City Monday. Mrs. Johnson has been at Logan for some time with her daughters, Misses Dora and Lola, Miss Lola being sick with typhoid fever, having become ill while she and Miss Dora were attending the agricultural college. —Mt. Pleasant Pyramid, 18th.

—Peter Frandsen of Millerton, an old neighbor here, was in Castle Dale the middle of the week on business. Frandsen, it is understood, will take measures to regain certain local property lost some time ago in foreclosure proceedings. Arriving too late at this term of court to have the matter taken up, the same will be decided in February, when court next sits. —Castle Dale Progress, 19th.

—A. E. Denne of this place bears the distinction of having been a schoolmate of Jake Stahl, the renowned leader of the victorious Boston Red Sox and was once spiked by Jake. This writer's chief claim to near greatness just now is having known Elmer Stricklett, the Columbus of the "spitball" when the latter was not even eligible to the bush leagues, and having played ball with "Buck" Weaver, the ex-big leaguer and present captain of the Salt Lake Skyerscrapers. —Green River Dispatch, 17th.

LAND OFFICE IS TO CONSIDER GOOD FAITH

The Salt Lake land office has received a communication from the department of the interior, calling special attention to a recent act of congress that the failure of a homestead entryman to give notice of election of making his proof, as required by law, does not in anywise prejudice his rights to proceed in accordance with the law under which such entry was made.

As a result of this, the order relating to the area of cultivation which was issued on July 15th is void and the area will now be cut down. Respecting cultivation necessary to be shown upon such entry, in all cases where, upon considering the whole record, the good faith of the entryman appears, the proof will be acceptable if it shows cultivation of at least one-sixteenth for one year and of at least one-eighth for the next year and each succeeding year until final proof, without regard to the particular year of the homestead period in which the cultivation of the one-sixteenth was performed. The new law also requires that the proof shall be made within five years from date of entry, and if the entry is to be administered under the law, the land department is not authorized to extend the period within which the proof may be made.
